Direction For Excellence

The educational institutions have increased by leaps and bounds in every city. The challenge of the present day world is so huge and complicated that it is extremely difficult for new and unbranded schools to survive the competition. Even the branded and old established schools face a tough competition to keep abreast with schools that have constantly maintained a good reputation and are running successfully. In the present scenario, the new schools or already existing schools, that desire a revolution in their education system, feel the need of Educational Consultants.

Recognizing the requirement for educational consultants, NES, introduces itself as a Complete School Management Consultancy, first time ever, in India. Our high-quality management consultancy service is sure to add impetus to the all round management quality of your school in a smooth and perfect manner. Our specialist will assist and guide you in all your school related problems and requirements. NES assures to render premium services to all its clients, in terms of education, management and global schooling environment, which will enhance the performance, networking and reputing your school. The consultation service of NES is sure to generate business and great opportunities for your schools.

NES is committed to provide professional and technical support to all the schools in order to improvise their competence. We also plan to further intensify our capacity building activities in the years to come. The administrators and planners will find the services of our company - innovative, informative, useful and indispensable.

Branding Advantage

Nageen, a renowned name in the field of education and publication, for the past forty years also holds a pan Indian presence. The brand has successfully established standards in the educational field and has been associated with leading academicians, administrators, writers, teachers and researchers, in the field of learning.

Now, experience the same branding advantage by Nageen's new venture, NES, an Educational Consultancy Firm. Any school can avail world class solutions from NES, a sure shot solution to all the problems related to managing a school.

Achieve Quality Standards

There are more than 20 lakh schools running across India and only a fraction of them having hundreds of years of experience behind them. These schools have perfected the art of school management by hit and try method, over years. The new entrants have entered the field with unlimited funds and spent crores of rupee in obtaining licences and franchisees from such school chain and brands . But there are others who do not have unlimited funds and still wish to avail the best of consultancy inputs so as to leapfrog and compete with the already existing leaders in this field .

NES provides this opportunity at nominal charges, the school needs only to work hard to implement the inputs and achieve their desired sales targets .

Deliver Customer Delight

The one stop shop model ensures hassle free and efficient delivery of required inputs, their implementation, etc. Hence, a satisfied customer. We provide school management software (100 + modules) including windows application, internet application, hardware, information regarding affiliation, duty manuals etc almost every knowledge that you may require for a school.

Leverage the multiple Benefits that come from Nageen Educational Solution's association for you. The unbeatable advantage that it spells are multifold .
